

FIRE IN THE WOODS
BREAKS OUT AGAIN.FLAMES STILL DEVASTATING
WISCONSIN TOWNS.

The Loss Already $1,350,000—Refugees From the Fire Being Afforded Relief—Ten Bodies Have Been Recovered—Gov. Peck Issues An Appeal to the People of the State.

PHILLIPS, Wis., July 30.—The fires last night broke into a blaze all along the docks and in many portions of the city. The breaking out afresh of the fire makes the people think the fire will not be stopped until it burns itself and destroys all the docks. Stevens Point was asked to send aid. One engine was asked for. It will be here to-day. The forest fires are still raging to the north and west of here and it is reported that several small stations between here and Ashland on the Central have been wiped out. The town of Worcester, a few miles west of here, is reported to have been destroyed. The family of John Slycher consisting of himself, wife and five children, came in and reported their house gone and all their crops burned up. They say the town was burned, but as it only consisted of few houses widely scattered, the financial loss is not heavy. The danger is that some of the families may have been hemmed in by the fires in the woods and have lost their lives. From all directions there come reports of destitution and suffering among the people.

The Wisconsin Central Railroad company has the bridge over the Elk river north of here repaired, and trains passed over it at 10 o'clock last night. There is a dense smoke pouring in here from the northwest indicating that there are heavy forest fires in that direction. Fires are raging in the southwest and southeast and in the direction of Prentice.

FIFIELD, Wis., July 30.—Forest fires raged to the west of this city all day yesterday. For a time the wind blew hard, and it was with difficulty that the fire was kept from creeping upon the city. A force of 300 men went out to fight the fire, and at 6 o'clock, while the fire was still raging, the wind had gone down, and it is believed the town is in no immediate danger. A special train from Phillips brought a number of men to help in fighting the flames. As they are now confined to a dense part of the woods and the town is in no danger nothing is being done to fight the fires. Reports from the north say the whole country is burning. A dense smoke hangs over the earth, indicating the presence of fires which want only a freshening wind to start them afresh in a path of death and destruction through the country.

PRENTICE, Wis., July 30.—Fires can be seen about five miles west of here in the vicinity of Melrose. A woodsman just in from there says there is no danger as yet. Prentice, which which was thought to be in danger, is all right, but reports come in from all directions that fires are smoldering in forests which surround this town and there may be danger. The country has been completely destroyed, crops are gone, and the few farmers who live in these forests are destitute. The reports received from all sections of Price county show there is a great destitution. There has been no rain to speak of for weeks.

The crops have not only suffered from the drouth, but myriads of grasshoppers have also aided in the destruction. To crown it all the fires have swept away what little hope the farmers had, and this section of the state will have to be practically supported by the outside world during the coming fall and winter. The gravest fears are entertained that the worst is not over yet unless rain comes and there is no sign of it at present. The smoldering fires in the forests will be fanned into flames again and will come back in the towns.

Mayor Brown of Rhinelander arrived here last night with a carload of provisions for the Phillips sufferers. The relief committee asks for contributions of lumber to build houses for the destitute.

A BED OF GLOWING COALS.

People of Phillips Return to Their Town Site—Relief Afforded.

PHILLIPS, Wis., July 30.—The homeless people of Phillips, who were driven from here by Friday's fire came in on trains and wagons from the surrounding country and wandered over the scorched hills on which were their residences and places of business. It is almost impossible to conceive the devastation and destitution which have been caused by the fire. A city of 700 houses wiped out with the exception of thirty-nine. Fourteen lives are known to have been lost, and there are all sorts of rumors about more people said to have been drowned or burned. The number who have lost their lives probably never will be known. Ten bodies have been recovered. The loss here will aggregate about $1,350,000. As the insurance adjusters are not in the city it is impossible to learn what the amount of indemnity is. The features of the day were the recovery of some of the dead, the return of the living, and the building of rude habitations for them, and the work of the relief committee. Gov. Peck has issued an appeal to the people of the state for aid.

Twenty-seven buildings out of 700 stand amid smoke and ashes on the scene of what was Phillips, the county seat of Price county and one of the wealthiest and most prosperous of all the towns in the timber regions of Wisconsin.

Fond Du Lac Quicks with Its Relief. FOND DU LAC, Wis., July 30.—The call of relief for the people of Phillips has been generously responded to by the citizens of Fond du Lac. Headquarters were established and at 10:30 p. m. a Wisconsin Central train carried 4,000 pounds of provisions and twelve large boxes of clothing to the destitute families. Considerable money was contributed also.

Prairie Fire in Iowa.

INDEPENDENCE, Iowa, July 30.—A prairie fire of large proportions started east of the hospital for the insane yesterday and rapidly spread over a large territory. It is running in close vicinity to Laurer's horse farm and the southern limits of the city. Although still burning it is thought to be under control.

FOR NEW CAR WORKS.

Eastern Capitalists Said to Be Contemplating Such a Move.

CHICAGO, July 30.—If negotiations now pending are carried to a successful termination the striking car builders at Pullman will quit the "model town" in a body and become the employees of a powerful new corporation organized for the manufacture of palace and freight cars and day coaches.

For more than a week secret communications have been passing between the agent of the corporation in Chicago and the strikers' central committee. All of the offers to the men are in writing, signed by a man of wealth and prominence in the business circles of the city. The names of a number of eastern capitalists who are connected with the enterprise are also mentioned to give the communications greater weight. Thus far the deliberations of the central committee and their replies to the advances made by the corporation have been kept wholly secret, but it is known that every member is heartily in favor of the change if reasonable terms can be agreed upon. As soon as the negotiations have reached a more definite basis the matter will be laid before the body of the strikers for their sanction and approval.

Town Devastated by Flames.

BELLE PLAINE, Iowa, July 30.—A fire which consumed over sixty buildings and destroyed property to the value of $500,000 broke out here at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Aid was asked from Cedar Rapids and Tama. Before engines arrived, at 9 o'clock, the entire business district of the town was in ashes. The insurance will not exceed $200,000. The Burley house was the only hotel left standing. No one was killed, but several people were badly injured. The fire started in a livery stable in the business section and spread rapidly.

Boiler Explosion at Ashland, Pa.

ASHLAND, Pa., July 30.—One of a nest of six boilers at Lehigh colliery No. 4 exploded last night, instantly killing one man and severely injuring three others, two of whom have since died. The cause of the explosion is a mystery, the boilers having been inspected recently. At the time of the explosion the men were engaged in making the steam pipe connections and placing the fire under the boilers. The building was wrecked and two other boilers were displaced.

Zimmerman Beats Them All.

PARIS, July 30.—At Bordeaux yesterday A. A. Zimmerman, the American, beat Loste, the best rider in Southern France, and several wheelmen of local fame. The race for the Toulous prize at the Valedrom Buffalo was won by Lumsden, with Starbuck, the American, second, and Munger third. The tandem race of 3,000 meters was won by Verhegen and Louvet. Fassier and Crooks, Americans, were second.

Chinese Buying War Material.

LONDON, July 30.—Advices have reached here indicating that the Japanese attacked the Chinese troops who landed at Asan from the transports that escaped from the Japanese warships. It is added that China has prohibited the exportation of rice or grain. Torpedoes have been laid in the Yang Tse Kiang river. The Chinese government is buying war material freely.

Quiet Day in Stock Yards.

CHICAGO, July 30.—For the first time since the strike at the stock yards yesterday passed in perfect quiet. Not a single arrest was made during the day or evening. There were no assaults reported at the police station and no outbreak of any kind. The militia will be ordered home very soon if the quiet continues.

Welcome Rainfall in Illinois.

OAKLAND, Ill., July 30.—The drouth which had prevailed here since July 1, with much damage to all crops, was broken Saturday and Sunday by the heaviest rain that has fallen during the last year, overflowing several creeks and much of the lowlands. The rains were general throughout the state and crops are greatly benefited.

Rain Saves Kansas Crops.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., July 30.—The drouth was broken in this section of Kansas by a heavy rain.

TARIFF SITUATION
STILL IS MIXED.

BOTH SENATE AND HOUSE RE-MAIN FIRM.

A Settlement May Be Reached In the Conference—Action on Appropriation Bills—Senator Voorhees' Health Improving But Not Very Rapidly.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—It looks very much like a tariff deadlock, as there is no indication of any purpose on the part of the senators to recede. The senate conferees talk frankly about the situation and plant themselves firmly upon the proposition that the sentiment in the senate is such that it must be the senate bill or no bill. The full conference between members of the two houses, with republicans as well as democrats present, will be held at 1 o'clock to-day. Previous to that time the democratic managers of the two houses will meet informally, when it is presumed the senate conferees will be informed of the decision of their house colleagues on the senate ultimatum. The decision which the senators are awaiting will be a flat refusal on the part of the house conferees to yield to the senate demand in whole or in part. The determination to give this negative response has been agreed on definitely by the house conferees.

SENATORS NOT UNDULY EXCITED.

They Feel That the House Conferees Are Certain to Surrender.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—There has been no meeting of the democratic conferees on the tariff bill since the adjournment at 10:30 Saturday, and the democratic members on the part of the senate are as yet uninformed as to what will be the purport of the reply which the democratic managers in behalf of the house will make in response to the senate's position that the conference must accept the senate bill. Having at the Saturday meeting made plain to the house members why this demand on their part had to be made, and why it should be accepted, the senators have since the adjournment Saturday given little attention to tariff affairs, and say, when spoken to, there is nothing for them to do until the house members make known their acceptance or rejection of the proposition. If it be accepted they think the report can be made after a brief conference; if rejected, they say they see no reason for a long parley, as under the circumstances they can not abate their demands without endangering the passage of the bill in the senate. The senate conferees have said to those of the house that to strike out the differential on sugar probably means the loss of eight votes in the senate; and also that it is equally important that coal and iron ore should remain in the bill as arranged in the senate. The feeling is that the house will not yield, but still there is an undercurrent that the deadlock on the bill will not long continue—that a settlement will soon be reached.

Work on Appropriation Bills.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Of the fourteen general appropriations two remain to be acted upon by the senate four are in conference, five are in the hands of the President and the other three have become laws. The sundry civil bill and the general deficiency bill are the ones which have not yet been reported to the senate from the committee on appropriations. The committee hopes to be able to report the sundry civil bill to-day, but the realization of the expectation depends upon whether the full committee at its meeting shall ratify the work of the subcommittee. The general deficiency bill has not yet received any attention whatever from the committee on appropriations. The general deficiency bill has purposely been held back so that any necessary additions might be made before adjournment.

Want the Lottery Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—A strong demand is being made by religious bodies for the house to pass the anti-lottery bill, which Senator Hoar introduced in the senate and which passed that body. Whether the bill receives consideration from the house this session depends upon how long the session is protracted, but its friends are confident it will eventually become a law.

House Decks Clear for Action.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—No plan of procedure has been arranged for the house of representatives, as Speaker Crisp wants to keep the way clear for the tariff bill, if an agreement can be reached. The only business set for the week is the Funston-Moore contested election case Wednesday.

Senator Voorhees Better.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Senator Voorhees of Indiana, who has been ill for the last few days, is reported much better. It is stated that he expects to resume his labors in the senate to-day on Tuesday at the latest.

Big Grain Elevator Burned.

MANKATO, Minn., July 30.—The Northwestern elevator, occupied by the Winona Milling company, caught fire at 9 o'clock and burned to the ground.

CHINESE SOLDIERS
POURED INTO COREA

IMMENSE FORCES SENT TO THE FRONT.

Reports Received at European Capitals Show That Their Have Been No Battles Since Saturday But Armies Are Pressing to the Scene of Action in Corea

BERLIN, July 30.—China is pouring troops into Corea. There has been no battle as far as known. Advices received here from Seoul by the Shanghai show that upon the refusal of Corea to accede to Japan's demand that the Chinese troops be sent out of the country, the Japanese advanced on Seoul. After a short encounter, in which the Koreans were defeated, the Japanese occupied the royal palace. The king of Corea thereupon asked the foreign representatives to intervene.

SHANGHAI, July 30.—Late last evening further details of the naval engagement reached this city. The fighting, though of short duration, was very severe. One of the Japanese warships got within a comparatively short distance of the transport Kow Shing and discharged a torpedo at her. The missile was well directed and struck the transport fairly. A terrific explosion followed and the Kow Shing began at once to fill. Prior to the discharge of the torpedo the crew of the transport, which was armed, and the military force on board of her made a hard fight against the attacking force. Many of those on board her were shot dead on her deck.

When the vessel began to sink there was great excitement on board of her. In the dire confusion that prevailed no attempt was made to lower the small boats, but even had such an attempt been made the boats could have carried only a small percentage of those on board. Every foreigner on board the transport, which had been chartered by the Chinese government from an English company, was either killed in the fighting or went down with the vessel when she foundered.

The loss will be very great. Of nearly 2,000 Chinese troops on board of her only forty were saved. They were picked up by the French gunboat Lion, that was cruising in the vicinity. Only a short time elapsed between the explosion of the torpedo and the foundering of the transport. The vessel went down suddenly near Shopoint island, at which place her commander made an attempt to beach her. The Tseo Kian, which was captured by the Japanese, was an old man of war that had been impressed into use as a transport. Many men were killed on board of her before she fell into the hands of the Japanese.

MINNESOTA NEEDS RAIN.

Excessively Hot and Dry Except a Few Light Local Showers.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 30.—The temperature in St. Paul ran up to 90 yesterday. Reports from the farming districts are to the effect that it was excessively hot every day the past week. No rain to speak of has fallen, except a few light showers, between Detroit and Moorhead. In that particular territory there will be a very good crop of small grain. A good rain now would save potatoes and corn. Around Little Falls harvesting is now in progress and it will be very general the beginning of the week. From Sauk Center to Morris a fairly satisfactory yield is anticipated. As far as wheat is concerned rain would be of no benefit now.

While the weather has been very hot in North Dakota several showers have fallen, and the wheat has got along very well. The country between Fargo and Valley City continues to have very favorable prospects for a bountiful yield; from Valley City to Jamestown only fair, and from Jamestown to Bismarck poor. Several hours' steady rain fell on Thursday night in North Dakota.

Two Thousand Houses Burned.

WANT TO KEEP THE TROOPS.

Mayor of Hammond Thinks Soldiers Still Needed—Non Union Men Killed

HAMMOND, Ind., July 30.—Adj. Gen. Irvin Robbins, commanding officer of the Indiana state militia, yesterday gave orders to Lieut. Col. H. B. Smith in command here to withdraw the soldiers now stationed here. However, ten companies will be kept in readiness. Company K and Battery E, now here, left for Auburn and Fort Wayne at 10 o'clock this morning. Mayor Reilly and Sheriff Frederick sent a telegram to Gov. Matthews requesting that the soldiers be kept here until next Friday as trouble is expected after the Chicago A. R. U. convention which meets Aug. 2.

WILL RESIST ANY REDUCTION.

Santa Fe Engineers Said to Have Determined to Object to a Cut.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 30.—There was a meeting of the lodge of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at Argentine last evening at which was discussed the proposition of the Santa Fe railway company to reduce the wage schedule. While the members of the order refused to talk for publication as to their proceedings it was stated by one of the men unofficially that the lodge decided to not sign the new schedule presented by the company. The meeting of engineers last evening and the decisive action taken tend to confirm the rumor that trouble is brooding. The strikers at Argentine are in high glee and the action of the engineers meets their hearty approval.

Non-Union Engineer Is Killed.

DANVILLE, Ill., July 30.—Bud Burns, one of the new engineers on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, was shot in the yards at the junction about 10 o'clock yesterday and died at the hospital in the afternoon. Burns was on a freight run, had just come in, and was taking his engine to the roundhouse. Seven shots were fired, only one of which took effect, entering his side near the back. Just after the shooting two men were seen running from the place, but further than this the police have no clews to the guilty parties.

Marshal Fails to Make Arrests.

VANDALIA, Ill., July 30.—For the last week or two trainmen on the Clover Leaf road at Ramsey, just north of here, have been troubled by having trains cut in two by pins being drawn. Yesterday a deputy United States marshal was sent there and attempted to arrest several men supposed to be the ones who have been pulling the car pins. The officer was surrounded by a mob and forced with drawn revolvers to leave the ball ground, where he attempted to make the arrests. He has asked for more marshals, and further trouble is expected.

Michigan Miners Admit Defeat.

IRONWOOD, Mich., July 30.—At a large meeting of the miners yesterday the strike which has been on here for the last month was declared off. The men will return to work at once. The Aurora mine will probably start up Tuesday and will at once begin shipping ore.

On the Union Pacific.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 30.—Eight hundred and ten employees on the Wyoming division of the Union Pacific have already left their jobs by reason of the recent strike and probably 100 more will follow. Thus far about one hundred men have been imported to take the places of the men who have been discharged.

Gladstone Men Leave the A. R. U.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 30.—The strike among the stevedores at Gladstone, Mich., was ended yesterday by the men abandoning the A. R. U. and turning over their cards of membership to Superintendent Kellie. Some of the leaders were not permitted to return to work.

Orendorff to Look After Troops.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 30.—Adjutant-General Alfred Orendorff left for Chicago last night to make a personal investigation of the situation there and to see whether it would be safe or advisable to soon withdraw the troops which are still on duty.

Whitely Will Stick to Muncie.

MUNCIE, Ind., July 30.—William N. Whitely, the reaper king, whose factory was destroyed by fire here some time ago, denies the story published in the Cincinnati papers to the effect that he will soon remove his business interests to Springfield, Ohio. Mr. Whitely has decided to rebuild the plant here and work on the building will be commenced next month. Amos Whitely is also closing out his business interests at Springfield and will soon locate in Muncie.

Egyptian Sugar Brought In.

NEW YORK, July 30.—The British steamer Monkseaton, which arrived yesterday from Alexandria, Egypt, has a full cargo of Egyptian sugar. The importation of sugar has assumed gigantic proportions. It is being brought to this port from almost all quarters of the globe in anticipation of its being subject to duty by the provisions of the Wilson bill.

WIND AND LIGHTNING
BLIGHTED A CITY.

AWFUL VISITATION AT MANCHESTER LAST NIGHT.

New Hampshire City Smitten By a Cyclone and By Lightning of Terrible Destructiveness—Many Steamers on the Lake and None Have Been Heard From—Many Deaths.

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 30.—A number of buildings, summer colleges, two churches and several residences, were struck by a cyclone and by lightning last night. All were demolished. Scores of steamers were on the lake when the storm came up, and none have been heard from. Telegraph wires were all down until late this morning. The destruction is wide spread, and amounts to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

SATOLLI HARD AT WORK.

Has No Time to Discuss His Letter on Liquor Question.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Mgr. Satolli has given practically no attention to matters that have arisen in connection with his attitude on the liquor question since the letter embracing his views was forwarded to Bishop Watterson of the diocese of Columbus. Rev. Dr. Papi, the private secretary to the ablegate, has been away two weeks but is expected to return within a month. As he is looked upon at the archbishop's residence as an incessant worker his absence has caused more than the usual share of work to fall to the lot of Rev. Dr. Sybaret, the auditor.

For the greater part of each day since Dr. Papi left the city Dr. Sybaret has been closeted with Mgr. Satolli attending to correspondence embracing matters that have been submitted to the archbishop by various members of the catholic clergy in this country. Owing to the pressure of correspondence priests as well as newspaper men who have called at the ablegate's home have been unable to see him or his confidential advisers. As a rule the priests have been met at door with the request to call at some other time when Mgr. Satolli will be at leisure. The hours between noon and four o'clock in the afternoon have usually been reserved each day by the ablegate and his associates for rest but now it is practically impossible to see him at any time during the day.

REPUBLIC IS SOLID.

Hawaiian Royalists Hammer the Jury System Under the New Constitution.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 30.—The steamship Australia has arrived, bringing Hawaiian advices to July 21. Peace prevails throughout Hawaii, and the new government appears to be firmly established. The jury system under the new constitution is causing some trouble in the country districts. The constitution requires all jurors to take the oath of allegiance to the new republic and to abjure all help in restoring the monarchy in any form. In one country district it has been impossible to get enough jurors to serve, the Honolulu royalists having sent out a circular stating that no answer had yet been received as to President Cleveland's intended action and warning the natives to keep out of politics and take no oaths of allegiance.

Even the most ardent royalists, however, have little hope that the commission recently sent to Washington will be able to accomplish anything in ex-Queen Liliuokalani's behalf.

Fever at Bagdad.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The United States consul at Bagdad, Mr. Sundberg, in a report to the state department, describes the terrible condition of the place from a hygienic point of view. He says that since the May floods began to subside a malignant fever has prevailed in the city and suburbs, more especially among the fellahs (tillers of the soil) down along the river. Having lost all their crops the consular fears the survivors of the fever will soon be starving. The consul says the mortality has been very high and the misery beyond conception.

Cyclone Warnings.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Secretary Morton is making an effort to secure the assistance of the postoffice department in the more thorough distribution of warnings of the approach of tropical cyclones in seaport towns where the weather bureau has no observers or displaymen stationed. With this end in view he has addressed a letter to Postmaster-General Bissell asking him to distribute warnings through the postoffice department.

Is After Curry.

CHICAGO, July 30.—Joseph O. Curry, late president of the defunct Chemical national bank, stands accused in a bill filed by Receiver Eli C. Tourtelot of wrongfully converting to his own use large sums. He is also charged with gross carelessness in making big loans to insolvent borrowers. The total amount of money involved amounts to several hundred thousands of dollars.

Drouth Unbroken in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 30.—Drouth in Iowa remains unbroken. Dispatches received here show prairie fires in various parts of the state.

WELCH WILL GIVE CHURCHES A REST.

EVANGELIST AT LAST SHOWS A LITTLE MERCY.

Will Not Wipe Out Janesville Congregations Entirely, and In Consideration of $1.19 Contributed by Sinful Young Men He Is Willing to Spare the Gazette.

The troops have not been withdrawn from the evangelist tent on Wall street. Crowds assembled in the vicinity at the meetings held in the afternoon Sunday, and also in the evening, and the seats under the canvas were comfortably filled. In the afternoon Mrs. Grundy appeared on the platform and spoke of the great relief she had received. Evangelist Welch and his assistant, Mr. Devilyer had just received a new line of hot weather language and used it on the city churches.

EVANGELIST WELCH WISHES FOR MORE LUNG POWER.

and The Gazette. It was picturesque, pleasing and as full of "go" as a yellow dog with a pin-wheel on his tail. After listening to it some of the wags standing around the tent collected a dollar and nineteen cents which they enclosed in an envelope, marked from "Gazette Printing Co." and dropped it in the box.

"Glory, hallelujah!" shouted Evangelist Welch, when he opened the envelope and read the inscription, and at the evening meeting he stated that hereafter peace would reign at the tent meetings. After receiving the "generous enclosure from the Gazette he had instructed Mr. Devilyer to say nothing more about that long-suffering paper. "And I will say nothing more about the city churches," said he. "We will attend strictly to our business and let other people attend to theirs. Peace with all. We will hold meetings right along every night, except on prayer meeting nights. I desire, that all here, who belong to church, will attend their church duties and we will not interfere. If you cannot attend church, come here."

There was considerable boisterous conduct around the outside walls of the tent. One young man was heard to answer in a loud voice, when Elder Welch desired any present to stand up and give their experience. "No I can't. I told my experience once in meeting and it cost me ten dollars and osts."

PHILETUS SAWYER MAKES REPLY.

Says There is No Talk of Refunding Money to Ex-Treasurers If Republicans Win.

Replying to the Milwaukee Journal's charge that if republicans elect their state ticket and gain control of the legislature, they will refund the $427,000 recovered from ex-Senator Sawyer, who as bondsman had paid the greater part of the money so recovered makes the following statement:

"As far as I am concerned, and I have paid all the money on Mr. Guenther's bond, amounting to more than $130,000, I do not expect any of it to be returned, and I would not think of asking for it or any portion of it. The allegations made by the democratic papers both in and out of the state to which you have called my attention, that Major Upham was nominated for governor of the state of Wisconsin at my dictation for the purpose of having a law passed and signed to return the interest money collected by the state from ex-state treasurers and their bondsmen, are absolutely false. Now, I want it to be distinctly understood by my friends throughout the state, that I do not want to be reimbursed for any of the money paid by me on the judgments, and that all stories to this effect put in circulation by the democratic press are only for political effect and have no standing in fact.

"While I may question the justice of the decision of the courts in compelling the ex-state treasurers and their bondsmen to pay to the state interest on interest at the rate of 7 per cent., when in fact the state officials are and were losing money at 3 and 4 per cent. per annum, all judgments on which I was surety have been paid, and I am absolutely opposed to having the question of right or wrong reopened, I do not want and shall not ask any legislature to reimburse me for any amount so paid. I can say that Mr. Guenther and Mr. Harshaw both feel the same as I do about the matter.

"I do not object to saying that the night before the convention met, which was Tuesday, a plank was submitted to Mr. McFetridge, Mr. Harshaw and myself, which somebody had drawn, pledging the people that no attempt would be made, if the republican ticket was elected to return any interest money collected, and we were one and all in favor of having it in the platform. I supposed that it would be a part of the platform, and was very much surprised not to find it there when I read the platform after its adoption."

GEORGE KETTLEWELL BACK HERE

Traveled 150,000 Miles By Water Since His Last Visit.

George Kettlewell was in the city Saturday visiting relatives and friends. Mr. Kettlewell formerly resided in Beloit and made frequent visits to this city. Thirteen years ago he entered the employ of a manufacturing firm in Canada, manufacturing a binder, and was at once put on the road traveling in foreign countries, mostly in South America and Europe.

"I have traveled over one hundred and fifty thousand miles on the ocean since I last visited Janesville," said he. "And I have been all over South America and most all countries in Europe. For twelve years I have been on the move all the time, and I have been on the water much of that time, traveling from one country to another introducing our binders."

On the Safe Side.

Everybody knows that it is a good place to be, but everybody does not take measures to be there. An efficient preventative laces us on the safe side of incipient disease, and there is no one more reliable than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in cases where the kidneys are inactive, which is but the preliminary to various destructive maladies, which disregarded have a fatal termination. Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, oedema, are but the outgrowths of neglected action of the kidneys and bladder. They should be checked at the outset with the Bitters, which will prevent their progress by arousing the renal organs to activity, and thus place those who resort to this saving medicine on the safe side. This preservative of safety also conquers constipation, liver complaint, malarial fever, nervousness and dyspepsia.

COL. BRITTON TELLS HOW SARGENT DIED.

JANESVILLE VETERAN CORRECTS AN ERROR.

The Story of the Charge at Franklin Was Not Made By General McArthur's Forces, They Being on Transports Coming Down the Cumberland River.

In a recent issue of the Inter-Ocean there is a graphic account of a charge made by General McArthur, at Franklin. Colonel W. B. Britton, of this city, sends the account to the Milwaukee Telegraph with the following statement, which shows very plainly that General McArthur was not at the battle of Franklin at all. Colonel Britton's letter contains other matters of interest and we find pleasure in printing it, as follows:

The enclosed I find in last Sunday's Inter-Ocean, written for Century War Book, which is not good history. The article is all right, but should read Battle of Nashville instead of Franklin. Neither General McArthur or any part of his division was in the battle of Franklin. When the battle of Franklin was being fought General McArthur's division was on transports on the Cumberland river, or about landing at Nashville to reinforce General Thomas' army. I think no part of General Smith's 16th Army Corps participated in the Battle of Franklin. The description of the charge is correct, so far as it goes, but should have included General Hubbard's 2d brigade, of the same division, which participated so gallantly in the charge. My regiment, the Eighth Wisconsin, of said brigade, shared all the honors bestowed by General Thomas, after the battle, in orders: it was in this charge that the gallant Sargent, adjutant of my regiment, with many others, lost their lives. It was also in this battle that Past Commander-in-Chief A. G. Weisert, received the wound that troubles him to this day. He was at that time sergeant major of my regiment. If the writer of the article will refer to the records he will find this statement correct as to the battles.

BOTH ACHING FOR A FIGHT.

Two Desperate Men Kept From Blood-letting by a Lucky Occurrence.

On Hastings street the other day a young colored man about twenty years of age sat on a doorstep drowsing in the sun, says the Detroit Free Press. Many passed him by, but after a time along came another young man of about the same age, carrying a cane. Of course he stopped and poked, and of course there were results. The sleeper awoke and angrily demanded:

"Who dat pusson who kept techin' me all do time?"

"I s'pects yo' am lookin' right at him, sah," replied the one with the cane.

"Julius, I ze a mind to broke yo' in two fur dat."

"Shoo! Yo' couldn't hurt nobody."

"Couldn't, eh? I let yo' know, sah, dat I killed a man ober in Chatham so dead he nebbber breathed ag'in."

"Doan yo' go fur to threaten me, Moses, kase I won't stand it. Mebbe some of yo' friends done tote yo' 'bout de way I knocked dat man to pieces down at Toledo. Jist reached out for him, an' he died."

"Hu! Look out for me, boy. I ze gettin' mad, and when de madness comes nobody can't dun hole me. I ze just a drove of mews runnin' away, I ar."

"I ze heard niggers talk afo' dis, but I didn't skeer."

"Nigger! Who yo' callin' nigger! Yo' is nigger yo'self, an' stole chickens."

"What? Yo' say I dun stole chickens? Why, boy, I'll crack yo' ribs in a minute. I doan' low no common trash to talk dat way to me."

"Shoo, nigger! If I war just to reach out my han' yo' would fall dead. I ze sorry fur yo' po' ole mudder, an' dat's why I doan' reach."

"Now, I ze mad. I'll gin yo' jist one minit to flee fur yo' life."

"Nigger!"

"Chicken thief!"

They stood facing each other, breathing hard, and were seemingly on the point of rushing at each other when a small colored boy came around driving an old ash wagon. It was a happy diversion. Both realized it, and advancing to the curbstone together one shouted:

"Look heah, boy, doan' yo be drivin' aroun' as if yo' fadder owned dis hull town, kase he don't. Yo' jist keep mighty quiet aroun' heah, or I'll make yo' heels crack de atmosphere."

And as the boy seemed frightened and tried to make himself look as small as possible the other one added:

"An' if yo' fadder makes an fuss 'bout it, I ze gwine to drive him right frow de airth. Yes, I ar'. Drive on, boy. We is two desperit men an' jist achin' for blood."

COOPER DID WELL AT THE CAPITAL.

CONGRESSMAN FULLY DE SERVES RE-ELECTION.

Editor J. A. Watrous Says He Would Not Be Surprised to See a Majority of Fifteen Thousand Rolled Up By First District Republicans This Year.

The renomination of Hon. H. A. Cooper, for congress, was in accordance with general expectation, says the Milwaukee Telegraph. The republicans of that district have had no thought of allowing Mr. Cooper to retire at the end of one term. It can be said of Mr. Cooper that he has made no mistake during his first term, and that he has made a record that is remarkable for good sense, excellent management and hard work. He is one of the most studious men who ever entered political life in our state, and Wisconsin never sent to congress a more conscientious and painstaking man. He is wholly devoted to his duties, has won high rank in party, and has the confidence and respect of all of his congressional associates. The whole matter is summed up, relative to Mr. Cooper, when we say that, looked at from any standpoint—as man, as republican, as citizen, as statesman, he meets all requirements of what a congressman should be. No one ever questioned his honesty; his ability is ample, and his conduct always such as good citizens can commend. The people of Wisconsin, who for years have been advocating the selection of manly men, of men of brain, men of character—who have been pleading that statesmen be picked out to represent the state in the national legislature, look at the congressman from the First district, his record and his work, and are encouraged because they see that the party in that district has adopted the right, the safe, the patriotic course. We shall not be surprised to see Mr. Cooper receive 15,000 majority, and we shall be disappointed if it is less than 12,000. He ought to be elected unanimously. He deserves such an endorsement; such an election would be to the credit of the people of that district.

HOPE FOR THE HAIRLESS.

Professor Birkholz, of Chicago, Gives Hope to Those Afflicted with Baldness—A "No Cure, No Pay" Treatment.

Professor G. Birkholz, of Chicago, the eminent German specialist, who for years has devoted his time and talent to the study of the hair follicles, and who has evolved the most successful treatment for baldness the world has ever known.

He will carefully examine each case and candidly inform the inquirer whether his baldness can be cured and the hair be restored. These examinations are made without charge.

In all cases where there are any hair follicles remaining undestroyed by age or disease the professor will undertake a cure, and if he does not effect a restoration of the hair he will ask no pay.

The remedy is an imported one, and the treatment given by the professor is his own, and cures where all others fail. If your case has been pronounced incurable do not take it as a final answer until you have seen Professor Birkholz and received his opinion.

Many persons have small bald spots through the hair. These increase in area and in time produce baldness. In such cases the hair follicles need nourishment. Prompt treatment will bring them into activity and restore the hair.

The success that has attended Professor Birkholz everywhere enables him to give a positive opinion in each case presented to him. Those who are bald or are threatened with baldness should not delay treatment, but call upon the professor at once. 1011 Masonic Temple Chicago.

Hand this notice to any first-class druggist and he will get the remedy for you at once, if he has not got it in stock.

SAYINGS AND DOINGS.

Young men in the village of Lee, Me., thought they would like to see what dynamite would do when it exploded. So they touched off a big charge in the center of the town. Nobody was killed, but all the windows of the neighborhood were broken.

In his book of "Reminiscences" General D. H. Maury tells of an old Virginia lady reduced to keeping boarders who said to her housekeeper, "Nancy, there's nothing in the house but mush for dinner. Give that to my boarders. If they are Christians they will eat it and be thankful; if they are not Christians, it is much better than they deserve."

A fete was recently given in Berlin in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the entrance of a girl into the service of a distinguished family. Auguste Prill is the name of this modest domestic. The occasion was celebrated in the most brilliant manner, all the members of the family, some of whom lived at a great distance, rallying to do the faithful servant honor, and bringing with them many costly and beautiful gifts.

At Meadville, Pa., as an old house was being torn down it was found to have been made from two old log houses, one of which was a block house erected in 1764. The frame was made from hewn timbers, and upon one of the logs was cut the following: "I, May, hewer, 1764." One of the large logs had holes cut in it about six inches by four inches and about four feet apart. It evidently came out of an old French block house.

The Yale corporation has fixed the prices to prevail for rooms in the new dormitories, and so for the time given their answer to the charge that Yale is providing for a rich clientele only. The schedule for Vanderbilt hall varies from $4.50 to $10 per week for a suite of one study and two bedrooms. The prices for Berkeley hall, the new building this year erected by the corporation, will range from fifty cents to $4 per week. At present the college dormitories will accommodate about 400 men, who pay an annual rental of less than $90.

HARPER'S HISTORY OF THE WAR

Harper's Pictorial History is universally recognized as the best history of the war yet published. This superb work has never been sold for less than $16 to $30. It has been sold only by subscription and but a very few men have been able to buy it.

The pages are the same size as Harper's Weekly and the work contains all the illustrations appearing in that great paper during the war. The work was edited by Richard Grant White and Henry M. Alden and is authentic, complete and reliable.

We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish Gazette subscribers with this splendid history of twenty-six parts at ten cents a part. These twenty-six parts will contain over one thousand war pictures and will make two handsome volumes when bound.

Many official documents of priceless historic value are quoted in full in the copious foot notes, such for instance as Lincoln's inauguration speeches, articles of federation of the early states, constitution of the United States, ordinance of secession, and many important papers, speeches, etc. The war story is consecutive and very fascinating. The introductory chapters, leading up to the struggle, and the chapter on the reconstruction period, are by some of the first writers of the age.

gives you a feeling of horror and dread. There is no longer necessity for its use in many diseases formerly regarded as incurable without cutting.

The Triumph of Conservative Surgery is well illustrated by the fact that RUPTURE or Hernia, is now radically cured without the knife and without pain. Clumsy, chafing trusses can be thrown away! They never cure but often induce inflammation, strangulation and death. TUMORS (Ovarian, Fibroid, Uterine) and many others, are now removed without the perils of cutting operations. PILE TUMORS, however large, and other diseases of the lower bowel, are permanently cured without pain or resort to the knife. STONE in the Bladder, no matter how large, is crushed, pulverized, washed out and perfectly removed without cutting. STRICTURE of Urinary Passage is also removed without cutting in hundreds of cases. J. B. TREAT,
IRA U. FISHER,
HANS QUALE,
Committee.

"THE ENEMIES HE HAS MADE."

No president has figured in fiercer feuds than has Cleveland. Within a few weeks after his first election, and before he was inaugurated, he mortally offended a large element, perhaps the majority, of his party, by a letter in which he assailed the Bland silver law. This element thought that law did not do enough for silver, but he declared in substance that it did too much and he wanted it repealed. He blocked the way of his party in his attempts to throw the mints wide open to silver and he forced that party against its will to assist in the repeal of the Sherman silver law. In his repeated crusades against the majority of his party on these issues, he invited and aroused deep and lasting antagonism. And now on the tariff question, by a letter denouncing one faction of his party for its treason to democratic principles, he has endangered the passage of a measure which the party is pledged to enact, and has demoralized and disrupted the organization for the time being.

If either the house or the senate had dealt with the tariff in an honest way there wouldn't be so much of a row. The Wilson bill was incongruous and hypocritical, to begin with, and the amendments attached to it in the interests of the trusts simply made it more of a fraud and a mockery.

Populists seem to recognize a truth once in a while. In Arkansas they declare in their platform that "the democrats have done more harm to the country in sixteen months than it suffered in twenty years prior to their accession to power."

The London "Spectator" prophesies that Japan will win the first battles, but that at length she will recoil before "the gloomy strength of China." The history of China has been that, while slow to engage in war, she never gives up anything.

The New York republicans should be sure to finish up all their wrangling and get themselves in good humor before the time comes for active service against the democratic party.

Debs is still talking but nobody pays any attention to him. He is powerless to do any further harm, and the general feeling toward him is one of thorough contempt.

Lord Rosebery should have paused for a while after realizing his famous program. His losses by the recent two defeats of Ladass are estimated at $250,000.

TYPEWRITER REGISTER.

It Counts the Words as the Work Progresses.

A Western genius has patented an attachment for typewriting machines that automatically counts the number of words. There are three disks in series, as common to registering and counting machines, the disk at the right indicating units, the next tens and the next hundreds, so that the three are adapted to count up 999, and the series may be extended, if desired, to count and register any required higher number. The disks are all moved from the units shaft, to which a rotary motion is imparted by the movement of a slide worked up and down by an adjustable connection with the space key of the machine.

The counting mechanism may be readily thrown out of gear if desired, and there is also an arrangement by which the gong is struck at every 100 words. When the capacity of the machine is reached the counting disks are returned to 0, or the normal position, by simply pressing upon a button or knob in the front of the case. This counter can be made at small expense and in addition to its other uses, is designed to be particularly valuable on typewriting machines operated to print words coming on a telegraph receiver, where the operator writes out words from sound and cannot so easily keep the count.

CYRUS FIELD'S HOUSE.

A Sad Reminder of the Misfortunes of His Last Days.

The lofty brownstone mansion of the late Cyrus W. Field, at the corner of Lexington avenue and Gramercy park, New York, has remained vacant since the death of its former owner and occupant. It is four stories and a basement high, very deep, and has a stable in the rear accessible from the avenue. On the quaint iron railing of the old-fashioned balcony, in front, a large placard is displayed, bearing, in bold letters, the legend: "For sale or to lease," and a similar announcement is conspicuously posted on the side of the house. On the front door is a brass plate, inscribed "C. W. Field," in old English letters, and on a side door is one of nickel, inscribed "Cyrus W. Field," in plain block letters. Closed wooden blinds at every window are weatherbeaten and grimy. The stately old mansion is a sad reminder of its distinguished departed owner and the melancholy disasters by which he and his family were overwhelmed in his declining years. It stands in gloomy silence and strange contrast with its halcyon days, when oft within its once hospitable walls "the light shown o'er fair women and brave men, and all went merry as a marriage bell."

A SNAKE STORY.

She Had Seen More Snakes Than She Could Count Without Help.

"Oh," exclaimed the miraculous woman, "I wouldn't go to Florida again for anything."
"And why not?" inquired her caller.
"Oh, it's just horrid down there. Why, our party saw 500 snakes one morning."

She had gone down there with an excursion party for a week.

"Not five hundred live snakes," protested the caller.

"Yes, that's what they said. I only saw ten myself."

"How many were in your party?"

"Fifty."

"Possibly each one saw the same ten snakes, and the liar of the party counted fifty times ten to make the total."

The returned excursionist began to look confused and silly.

"I wonder," she said sheepishly, "if that man was mean enough to impose on me that way? I believed him when he told me, for he had been there before and I hadn't."

He Need Not Despair.

George, in despair—I must be an idiot. I don't seem to be able to find any suitable vocation.

Mabel, tearfully—Never mind, George. If worst comes to worst you can become a diplomatist.—Chicago Record

Doubts the Erl King's Story.

LONDON, July 30.—In a letter Mr. Fielden says of Walter Wellman's arctic expedition: "I fear that the Erl King's news of Mr. Wellman and his party is unreliable. The absence of a date and other facts lead me to conclude that the Erl King met some sealers who had communicated with Mr. Wellman between May 10 and 17."

Nebraska is Parched.

OMAHA, Neb., July 30.—There is absolutely no variation in the monotonous cry of despair from the corn region of Nebraska. West of Hastings the whole country is parched and dry as if it had been swept by flames. For miles and miles not a spear of living green is to be seen.

TOO MUCH TO ASK.

OUT ON THE FLY.

"Adversity has uses sweet. And this one I do declare, If you've a bald head, soft and neat, Your wife can never pull your hair."—Texas Siftings.

And He Never Was Cross Again. Hubby (during the tiff)—I suppose now that you will be going home to your mother in the morning?

Wife—I just won't. I have tried that, and it doesn't seem to do any good. I am going to bring mother here this time.—Pearson's.

Lasted a Long Time.

Willis—When my wife makes me a present it is sure to be something that will last.

Wallace—My wife is just like her. Five years ago she made me a present of one hundred cigars, and I have ninety-nine of them yet.—Life.

A Hint.

Hazely—By George! I can't understand it. My credit must be gone. Business men don't seem to think I'll be able to pay.

Mrs. Hazely—Perhaps they'd think so if they saw your wife dress better.—Chicago Record.

Too Risky. Cora—I expect Mr. Merritt this evening, so don't hide any of your fireworks in the parlor.

Little Johnnie—I guess not. You two spark so much, you'd be sure to set them off.—Truth.

The Oppressed Weaker Sex. Mrs. Plainfield—I shouldn't think your husband would pay your dues to so many woman's rights clubs.

Mrs. Strong (with fire in her eye)—Let him dare to refuse!—Puck.

An Error in Locality. Pawson—Why does Dr. Smythe hesitate so when he is talking? Has he an impediment in his speech?

Dawson—No; in his mind.—Brooklyn Life.

An Egotist. Hiland—What a nuisance that egotist Spudkins is.

Haket—Right you are. He's a regular "I" sore.—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

TAX ON PARSONAGES IS UNDER DEBATE.

SIX CHURCH HOMES OWNED IN JANESVILLE.

The Question of Their Assessment Was Brought Up by the Decision of the Board of Review in Milwaukee—Ruling Has Developed a Lively Spirit of Opposition.

"The question of taxing the residences of local ministers in Janesville has never been raised by the board of review nor the assessors until this year. A half dozen or more residences are owned by Janesville churches, and are occupied by their respective pastors or ministers, and assessors holding this property belongs to the church, have never assessed it or placed it on the tax roll. Just how far this exemption reaches has not been determined, but it is to be taken into account in Milwaukee. The board of review having adopted a resolution to tax the residence of Archbishop Katzer, and have thus brought the matter prominently before the public, and is creating more or less comment.

As a result of the deliberations over the residence of the archbishop, the home of Presiding Elder Creighton of the Milwaukee conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will also probably be assessed. During the debate in regard to the archbishop's property City Clerk Anderson declared that he thought if the residence of Archbishop Katzer was exempted the home of Mr. Creighton should also be exempted. An examination of the books showed that the latter residence was not taxed, and in view of the decision of the board it will also probably be included in the assessment roll. The assessment on the property of the Wisconsin Training School for Nurses was also allowed to stand, the board being of the opinion that it could not be construed that the building was used for strictly benevolent purposes. City Attorney Hamilton differed with the board on this point, and rendered an opinion that as the property was owned by a benevolent organization it was not liable to assessment. Despite this opinion, however, the board decided it should be taxed.

MISLEADING FOLLY.

Judic Chollet on Trying to Make Something Out of Nothing.

It is to be hoped that we shall soon pass beyond the stage of reading and attempting to follow directions how to convert a shabby parlor—for such advice is usually intended for suburban and country residents—into a beautiful and artistic one by means of some old barrels, a scant measure of denim, some turkey red cotton and unlimited straw and tacks. Securely protected by the insulating medium of the press, the household writer revels in descriptions of this costless luxury. Even when she preserves a fairly decent front in directions for the remodeling of the down stairs region, once among the bedrooms she flings all restraints to the wind and surreitself on castoff fruit tins, dry goods cases, soap boxes and pink glazed cambric at 4 cents per yard. Out of these materials she creates, on paper, furniture for an exquisite sleeping apartment, which needs only the addition of a burlap rug or two and some advertisement pictures framed in julep straws to be artistically complete. It would be interesting to know on psychical grounds if the person who is guilty of promulating such misleading folly sleeps well o' nights. In poetical justice she should be tormented by a perpetual nightmare in which she attempts to follow her own advice. The hay padded box that she declares so perfect a substitute for the usual couch with springs and hair cushions should be her only resting place, and she should be compelled to continually regard her favorite article of bric-a-brac—a pickle bottle adorned with gilt paper and scrap-pictures. When a housekeeper has artistic yearnings and no means of gratifying them, she is in just the position to be led astray by fallacious directions for making something out of nothing, but "nothing comes of nothing" and worse than nothing from the something which consists of a scant allowance of colored cambric and unlimited decorative ambition. The whitewashed walls and bare floor of a convent cell are more artistic and therefore more pleasing to the eye than cheap frippery, for there is no pretense about them and therefore no failure. If only $1 or $2 can be afforded for refitting a room, let it be spent on fresh paint for the woodwork or the furniture or a pair of good muslin curtains, which will be a real addition to the attractiveness of the apartment.

A sketch is given of a wall pocket made of white or ecru linen and embroidered in cross stitch, with red and blue crewels. A set of flannel leaves is added at the bottom to hold needles and pins. Each pocket is bound with braid across the top before being sewed to the back, and the entire article is similarly bound around the edge.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

MORAL HUMBUGS.

Cheap and Showy Goodness Worn to Give a False Impression.

Fortunately moral humbug is going out of style—that is, it is not so universal as it once was. By moral humbug is meant not saintly airs assumed to cover some grave delinquency, but the cheap, showy goodness that is put on to give the impression of unusual general virtue, such virtue as was the pride of Mr. Anstey's "Good Little Girl." We can every one of us, no doubt, by reflecting, recall on the one hand a person of this description as full of excellent sentiments as the brother of Charles Surface, who loses no opportunity of making goody-goody observations, pointing a moral or adorning a tale, while in practical matters calling for the exercise of common honor and unselfish friendship she is not to be counted on for a moment. On the other hand, we can remember equally well somebody who makes no loud or persistent professions, but who leads a truly conscientious life without blazoning it to the world, to whom moral obligations are so much a part of her being that she thinks of speaking of them no oftener than she speaks of breathing, and who in time of trouble is a city of refuge and a rock of defense.

This seems and is outside of the depth of fashion, which is a pretty ripple that plays on the surface of life, but as this part of the paper is for women a little ranging beyond the immediate subject may be allowed now and then, especially if it is made up for by the appearance of an attractive picture. In the sketch given the lower skirt and the vest are of rose colored moire and the rest of the gown of hazel brown taffeta. The bolero and collar are embroidered with steel and gold beads.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

BRIEF BITS OF HUMOR.

Why He Laughed.

"You seem to be in a hilarious humor, Blinks," said Brown at the breakfast table. "Oh, I have been reading one of Robinson's stories." "His narrations are not usually droll enough to provoke merriment." "No; but this one was enough to make a dog laugh." "Ah, that accounts for it," said Brown. And Blinks could not for the life of himself see what so amused Brown and the waiter—Alex Sweet, in Texas Siftings.

A Careful Father.

"Look here," said the parent to the school-teacher, "I see that one of the lines in my boy's copybook is: 'Less haste, more speed.'" "Yes." "And here's another that reads: 'The longest way 'round is the shortest way home.'" "Yes." "Well, I want it stopped. I don't want those molly proverbs festooned around his intellect. I'm educating him for business—not the United States senate."—Washington Star.

Some Difference.

Mrs. Twickenham (to Mrs. Slimson)—I declare, there is always some expense. I was going to get me a swell gown this summer and now my husband tells me he has got to spend seventy-five dollars for a new dress suit.

Little Willie Slimson—Phew! Papa got one the other night for only three dollars.—Clothier and Furnisher.

A FIRM RESOLVE.

Valentine McClinchy (decisively)—Verbena McNulty, during the first periods of our acquaintance, I had no objections to the presence of a third party during our interviews, but now that mutual admiration has developed into love, and love into betrothal, this system, at once insulting and suspicious, must cease at once or all will be over between us forever.—Truth.

Second Boy—No I ain't; but if I fight you, my mother'll lick me.

"How will she find it out, eh?" "She'll see the doctor goin' to your house."—Good News.

A Stand-Off.

The Father—You are not exactly the kind of man I would like to have for a son-in-law.

The Suitor—Well, you're not my ideal of a father-in-law, but we needn't be chummy unless you wish.—Judge.

Unflattering But Veracious.

The Same Old Butter.

A friend of mine has just had a most unpleasant experience. He has married a widow, and by some coincidence took her to the same hotel where she stopped with her first spouse. At the table she said to Charles, the bridegroom: "Will you kindly pass the butter, John?" A vision of "John" his predecessor, flitted before the bridegroom, who indignantly replied: "My name is not John, it is Charles." "Excuse my mistake, Charles," she said, and then, tasting the butter, added, reflectively, "but it is the same butter."—Boston Home Journal.

Britain's Regular Army.

The British regular army at the end of last year numbered 220,000 men of ranks, which was about 3,000 above the "establishment." The reserves numbered 80,349, the militia 124,700, the yeomanry (volunteer cavalry) 10,400 and the volunteers 228,800. During 1893 34,847 recruits joined the army. Of these 11,682 were 5 feet 7 inches in height or over; 11,215 measured 34 to 35 inches around the chest and 14,224 weighed 130 pounds and upward. These weights and measurements are a better average than in any other recent year.

A Sharp Panama Scheme.

The natives of Colon and Panama were lately discovered in a fairly sharp scheme to rob the steamship company. The transfer of bales and packages of India rubber over the isthmus is always large in volume after the arrival of steamers from Peru and Mexico. Then there are constant arrivals from Columbia and Nicaragua, as well as local receipts from within a few miles of Colon. These, piled on the docks, make a large aggregate and at favorable opportunity a bale or two would be dropped overboard, and as rubber naturally will float, it was comparatively an easy matter to pilot the booty to a point whence it could be readily handled and disposed of by a "fence." As a bale weighs from 100 to 200 pounds, the haul was a good one to the native. The loss could not be discovered until after the steamer reached New York, and it bothered American detectives for months, until the leak was finally located.

The Railroad Won.

Charles S. Rackeman, an attorney of Boston, who took a ride between Boston and Hyde park on the Old Colony railroad and refused to pay his fare because he was not furnished with a seat, was sued and the trial resulted in a verdict for the company of seventeen cents, which is a fare of fifteen cents and two cents interest thereon.

TALMAGE SPEAKS ON "NARROW ESCAPES."

THE SUBJECT OF DR. TALMAGE'S SERMON.

The Text Being Taken from Job 19: xx, "I am escaped with the skin of my teeth"—Don't Confound Christianity.

BROOKLYN, July 29.—Rev. Dr. Talmage has selected as the subject for his sermon for to-day, through the press: "Narrow Escapes," the text being taken from Job 19: xx, "I am escaped with the skin of my teeth."

Job had it hard. What with boils, and bereavements, and bankruptcy, and a fool of a wife, he wished he was dead; and I do not blame him. His flesh was gone, and his bones were dry. His teeth wasted away until nothing but the enamel seemed left. He cries out, "I am escaped with the skin of my teeth."

There has been some difference of opinion about this passage. St. Jerome and Schultens, and Drs. Good, and Poole, and Barnes have all tried their forceps on Job's teeth. You deny my interpretation, and say, "What did Job know about the enamel of the teeth?" He knew everything about it. Dental surgery is almost as old as the earth. The mummies of Egypt, thousands of years old, are found to-day with gold filling in their teeth. Ovid, and Horace, and Solomon, and Moses wrote about these important factors of the body. To other provoking complaints, Job, I think, has added an exasperating toothache, and, putting his hand against the inflamed face, he says, "I am escaped with the skin of my teeth."

A very narrow escape, you say, for Job's body and soul; but there are thousands of men who make just as narrow escape for their soul. There was a time when the partition between them and ruin was no thicker than a tooth's enamel; but, as Job finally escaped, so have they. Thank God! Thank God!

Paul expresses the same idea by a different figure when he says that some people are "saved as by fire." A vessel at sea is in flames. You go to the stern of the vessel. The boats have shoved off. The flames advance; you can endure the heat no longer on your face. You slide down on the side of the vessel, and hold on with your fingers, until the forked tongue of the fire begins to lick the back of your hand, and you feel that you must fall, when one of the life-boats comes back, and the passengers say they think they have room for one more. The boat swings under you—you drop into it—you are saved. So some men are pursued by temptation until they are partially consumed, but after all get off—"saved as by fire." But I like the figure of Job a little better than that of Paul, because the pulp has not worn it out; and I want to show you, if God will help, that some men make narrow escape for their souls, and are saved as "with the skin of their teeth."

It is as easy for some people to look to the Cross as for you to look to this pulpit. Mild, gentle, tractable, loving, you expect them to become Christians. You go over to the store and say, "Grandson joined the church yesterday." Your business comrades say, "That is just what might have been expected; he always was of that turn of mind." In youth, this person whom I describe was always good. He never laughed when it was improper to laugh. At 7, he could sit an hour in church, perfectly quiet, looking neither to the right hand nor to the left, but straight into the eyes of the minister, as though he understood the whole discussion about the eternal decrees. He never upset things, nor lost them. He floated into the kingdom of God so gradually that it is uncertain just when the matter was decided.

Here is another one, who started in life with an uncontrollable spirit. He kept the nursery in an uproar. His mother found him walking on the edge of the house roof to see if he could balance himself. There was no horse he dare not ride—no tree he could not climb. His boyhood was a long series of predicaments; his manhood was reckless; his midlife very wayward. But now he is converted, and you go over to the store and say, "Arkwright joined the church yesterday." Your friends say, "It is not possible! You must be joking!" You say, "No; I tell you the truth. He joined the church." Then they reply, "There is hope for any of us if old Arkwright has become a Christian!"

In other words, we all admit that it is more difficult for some men to accept the Gospel than for others. I may be addressing some who have cut loose from churches, and Bibles, and Sundays, and who have at present no intention of becoming Christians themselves, but just to see what is going on; and yet you may find yourself escaping before you hear the end, as "with the skin of your teeth." I do not expect to waste this hour. I have seen boats go off from Cape May or Long Branch, and drop their nets, and after a while come ashore, pulling in the nets without having caught a single fish. It was not a good day, or they had not the right kind of a net. But we expect no such excursion to-day. The water is full of fish; the wind is in the right direction; the Gospel net is strong. O, thou, who didst help Simon and Andrew to fish, show us to-day how to cast the net on the right side of the ship!

Listen to two or three questions. Are you as happy as you used to be when you believed in the truth of the Christian religion? Would you like to have your children travel on in the road in which you are now traveling? You had a relative who professed to be a Christian, and was thoroughly consistent, living and dying in the faith of the Gospel. Would you not like to live the same quiet life, and die the same peaceful death? I received a letter, sent me by one who has rejected the Christian religion. It says: "I am old enough to know that the joys and pleasures of life are evanescent, and to realize the fact that it must be comfortable in old age to believe in something relative to the future, and to have a faith in some system that proposes to save. I am free to confess that I would be happier if I could exercise the simple and beautiful faith that is possessed by many whom I know. I am not willingly out of the church or out of the faith. My state of uncertainty is one of unrest. Sometimes I doubt my immortality, and look upon the death-bed as the closing scene, after which there is nothing. What shall I do that I have not done?" Ah! scepticism is a dark and doleful land. Let me say that this Bible is either true or false. If it be false, we are as well off as you; if it be true, then which of us is safer?

Let me also ask whether your trouble has not been that you confounded Christianity with the inconsistent character of some who profess it. You are a lawyer. In your profession there are mean men and dishonest men. Is that anything against the law? You are a doctor. There are unskilled and contemptible men in your profession. Is that anything against medicine? You are a merchant. There are thieves and defrauders in your business. Is that anything against merchandise? Behold, then, the unfairness of charging upon Christianity the wickedness of its disciples. We admit some of the charges against those who profess religion. Some of the most gigantic swindles of the present day have been carried on by members of the church. There are men in the churches who would not be trusted for five dollars without good collateral security. They leave their business dishonesties in the vestibule of the church as they go in and sit at the communion. Having concluded the sacrament, they get up, wipe the wine from their lips, go out, and take up their sins where they left off. To serve the devil is their regular work; to serve God a sort of play spell. With a Sunday sponge they expect to wipe off from their business slate all the past week's inconsistencies. You have no more right to take such a man's life as a specimen of religion than you have to take the twisted iron and split timbers that lie on the beach at Coney island as a specimen of an American ship. It is time that we drew a line between religion and the frailties of those who profess it.

To-day I invite you back into the good old-fashioned religion of your fathers—to the God whom they worshipped, to the Bible they read, to the promises on which they leaned, to the cross on which they hung their eternal expectations. You have not been happy a day since you swung off; you will not be happy a minute until you swing back.

Again: There may be some of you who, in the attempt after a Christian life, will have to run against powerful passions and appetites. Perhaps it is a disposition to anger that you have to contend against; and perhaps, while in a very serious mood, you hear of something that makes you feel that you must swear or die. I know of a Christian man who was once so exasperated that he said to a mean customer, "I can not swear at you myself, for I am a member of the church; but if you will go downstairs my partner in business will swear at you." All your good resolutions heretofore have been torn to tatters by explosions of temper. Now there is no harm in getting mad if you only get mad at sin. You need to bridle and saddle these hot-breathed passions, and with them ride down injustice and wrong. There are a thousand things in the world that we ought to be mad at. There is no harm in getting red hot if you only bring to the forge that which needs hammering. A man who has no power of righteous indignation is an imbecile. But be sure it is a righteous indignation, and not a petulance that blurs, and unravels, and depletes the soul.

There is a large class of persons in midlife who have still in them appetites that were aroused in early manhood, at a time when they prided themselves on being a "little fast," "high livers," "free and easy," "hail fellows well met." They are now paying in compound interest for troubles they collected twenty years ago. Some of you are trying to escape, and you will—yet very narrowly, "as with the skin of your teeth." God and your own soul only know what the struggle is. Omnipotent grace has pulled out more than a soul that was deeper in the mire than you are. They line the beach of heaven—the multitude whom God has rescued from the thrall of suicidal habits. If you this day turn your back on the wrong, and start anew, God will help you. Oh, the weakness of human help! Men will sympathize for a while and then turn you off. If you ask for their pardon they will give it, and say they will try you again; but, falling away again under the power of temptation, they cast you off forever. But God forgives seventy times seven; yes, seven hundred times; yes, though this be the ten thousandth time he is more earnest, more sympathetic, more helpful this last time than when you took your first misstep.

If, with all the influences favorable for a right life, men make so many mistakes, how much harder it is when, for instance, some appetite thrusts its iron grapple into the roots of the tongue, and pulls a man down with hands of destruction! If, under such circumstances, he break away, there will be no sport in the undertaking, no holiday enjoyment, but a struggle in which the wrestlers move from side to side, and bend, and watch for an opportunity to get in a heavier stroke, until with one final effort, in which the muscles are distended, and the veins stand out, and the blood starts, the swarthy habit falls under the knee of the victor—escaped at last as with the skin of his teeth.

The ship Emma, bound from Gottenburg to Harwich, was sailing on, when the man on the lookout saw something that he pronounced a vessel bottom up. There was something on it that looked like a sea gull, but was afterward found to be a waving handkerchief. In the small boat the crew pushed out to the wreck, and found that it was a capsized vessel, and that three men had been digging their way out through the bottom of the ship. When the vessel capsized they had no means of escape. The captain took his penknife and dug away through the planks until his knife broke. Then an old nail was found, with which they attempted to scrape their way out of the darkness, each one working until his hand was well nigh paralyzed, and he sank back faint and sick. After long and tedious work, the light broke through the bottom of the ship. A handkerchief was hoisted. Help came. They were taken on board the vessel and saved. Did ever men come so near a watery grave without dropping into it? How narrowly they escaped—escaped only "with the skin of their teeth."

Try this God, ye who have had the bloodhounds after you, and who have thought that God had forgotten you. Try him, and see if he will not help. Try him, and see if he will not pardon. Try him, and see if he will not save. The flowers of spring have no bloom so sweet as the flowering of Christ's affections. The sun hath no warmth compared with the glow of his heart. The waters have no refreshment like the fountain that will slake the thirst of thy soul. At the moment the reindeer stands with his lip and nostril thrust into the cool mountain torrent, the hunter may be coming through the thicket. Without cracking a stick under his foot, he comes close by the stag, aims his gun, draws the trigger, and the poor thing rears in its death agony and falls backward, its antlers crashing on the rocks; but the panting heart that drinks from the water brooks of God's promise shall never be fatally wounded, and shall never die.

This world is a poor portion for your soul, oh business man! An eastern king had graven upon his tomb two fingers, representing as sounding upon each other with a snap, and under them the motto, "All is not worth that." Apicius Collius hanged himself because his steward informed him that he had only eighty thousand pounds sterling left. All of this world's riches make but a small inheritance for a soul. Robespierre attempted to win the applause of the world; but when he was dying a woman came rushing through the crowd crying to him: "Murderer of my kindred, descend to hell, covered with the curses of every mother in France!" Many who have expected the plaudits of the world have died under its Anathema Maranatha.

Oh, find your peace in God. Make one strong pull for heaven. No half-way work will do it. There sometimes comes a time on ship-board when everything must be sacrificed to save the passengers. The cargo is nothing, the rigging nothing. The captain puts the trumpet to his lip and shouts, "Cut away the mast!" Some of you have been tossed and driven, and you have, in your effort to keep the world, well nigh lost your soul. Until you have decided this matter, let everything else go. Overboard with all those other anxieties and burdens! You will have to drop the sails of your pride, and cut away the mast! With one earnest cry for help, put your cause into the hand of him who helped Paul out of the breakers of Melita, and who, above the shrill blast of the wrathful tempest that ever blackened the sky or shook the ocean, can hear the faintest imploration for mercy. I shall conclude, feeling that some of you, who have considered your case hopeless, will take heart again, and that with a blood-red earnestness, such as you have never experienced before, you will start for the good land of the Gospel—at last to look back, saying, "What a great risk I ran! Almost lost, but saved! Just got through, and no more! Escaped by the skin of my teeth."

FEMININITIES.

Lewis Schiller, of Allentown, Pa., is the father of twenty children, seventeen of whom are living.

A little girl was punished for doing wrong, when she said: "Oh, those commandments do break awfully easy!"

You can always tell the novice in love-making when he asks for "just one kiss." As though such a thing ever existed!

Grace—You asked me to marry you. Can you not read your answer in my face? Ned, cruelly—Yes; it is very plain.

Girls who contemplate purchasing a bicycle would do well to harden their muscles in advance by running their mother's sewing machine or rocking the baby.

When you see a young man and woman walking down the street, leaning on each other like a pair of badly-matched oxen, it is a pretty good sign that they are bent on consolidation.

There is a woman in San Francisco who makes a business of hunting up missing heirs to estates. She travels all over the country and has been very successful, deriving, it is said, a handsome income from her peculiar occupation.

"Brownstone has cured his wife of everlasting talking." "How, for goodness sake?" He told her that she looked prettier with her mouth closed, and now she can hardly be induced to utter a syllable."

She Profited by It.
"I read an article in a paper on how to keep servant girls a few days ago," she said, "and I decided to profit by it. It gave long directions as to the way a girl's room should be fitted up to make it pleasant for her, and I devoted two days to fixing the room just the way it described."
"Then what did you do?"
"Then I decided to occupy the room myself. It was the prettiest and most expensively furnished in the house."

Rainmaking in India.

A rainmaker in India has an apparatus consisting of a rocket capable of rising to the height of a mile, containing a reservoir of ether. In its descent it opens a parachute, which causes it to come down slowly. The ether is thrown out in fine spray, and its absorption of heat is said to lower the temperature about it sufficiently to condense the vapor and produce a limited shower.

Economize.

One and a half teaspoonfuls Horsford's Baking Powder gives better results than two full teaspoonfuls of any other.

Birney's Catarrh Powder

REV. FATHER CLARK, Sec'y to the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Columbus, Ohio, writes:
GENTLEMEN:—I cannot say enough for your Powder. It has cured me of an aggravated attack of catarrh when nothing else could help me. An old friend of mine, Dr. Birney's Catarrh Powder, is quite enthusiastic over it. The good sisters speak most encouragingly of their use of it in the Hospital under their care. I will do anything to speak a good word for the remedy to help others who are suffering.
M. E. FRANKTON, Custodian L. S. Appraiser's Stores, Chicago, writes:
GENTLEMEN:—Being almost entirely deaf for a number of years past and getting no relief from many small-dose cures which I tried, was induced by a friend to try Dr. Birney's Catarrh Powder for my deafness. Have recovered my hearing entirely, so that I can now hear a watch tick plainly, it being held 18 inches from my ear. I look upon it as a positive cure for deafness and have recommended its use to many of my friends and can say I have never heard of a case where it has failed to relieve.

Several Facts

which enables us to offer enormous bargains for this month and next. We are candid enough to admit that we are somewhat overstocked. It would not pay us to carry goods over the season, we would sooner lose money than do that.

Our Policy

is to p the money in circulation, and we propose to sell the entire stock regardless of cost, loss or profit, and at once.

Take The Hint.

Such values as these can't last long, so don't get the tail end of this great offer. We have three lines of Boys' Long Pant Suits, which are slightly damaged, does not hurt the clothing at all, only hurts the price. We will make them to you at $2, $3 and $4 a suit. They are suits which originally sold for $7.50, $10 and $15. Now is the time to get your boys good school suits for fall and winter.

Those desks at $5.50 went well. Here is another trade catcher.
